

TEACHING THE PAST IN THE FUTURE:
HOLOCAUST EDUCATION AND THE CIVIL RIGHTS ERA
IN THE AGE OF SOCIAL MEDIA AND NEW TECHNOLOGIES
A Centropa Teachers' Seminar
University of South Carolina
13-14 April 2019

Join us for our first-ever Centropa seminar bringing together German and South Carolina educators, where you will:

- Discuss what we can learn from German educators about how the Holocaust is taught in Germany;
- Hear from veteran Centropa teachers about how they successfully use Centropa's personal stories in their classrooms;
- Explore the question: can we effectively compare the Nuremberg laws and Jim Crow laws when teaching students?
- Listen to a panel of experts from Germany – a research assistant at the Dachau concentration camp, a professor from the Institute of History at Würzburg, Germany, and the Director of the Bavarian State Education Office – discuss what it's like to deal with Germany's past with students;
- Hear from a German teacher and his student about a traveling exhibition they created about children murdered in the Holocaust – and how it came to travel through Maryland;
- Discover Centropa's interview and photograph database, and short multimedia films, and find out how you can use them to teach civics, history, social studies, English language arts, foreign language, art, film, and photography;
- Learn about our upcoming 2019 Centropa Summer Academy in Berlin, 8-15 July, when we will bring 65 educators from 15 countries to tour, study, and collaborate together on projects (<https://2019.centropasummeracademy.org>)

Who we are: Centropa (www.centropa.org) is a Jewish historical institute based in the US and Europe. Our teams interviewed 1,200 elderly Jews living in 15 European countries—but we never used video, and we didn't focus solely on the Holocaust. Instead, we asked them to tell us stories about the entire century as they lived it—and we scanned over 20,000 of their old family pictures. We bring history to life for students by making it personal.

Registration fee: $25 ~ Deadline for applying: Tuesday, 9 April 2019

Register here: <https://scss.org/event-3296657>

Questions? Please contact Centropa's US Education Director, Lauren Granite, at granite@centropa.org.